Coast Boxing Championships Close Tonight

Idaho And Washington State Lead For Team Prize

SACRAMENTO (UP)—Two hard-punching teams from the Pacific Northwest head a field of eight colleges into semi-final and final rounds of the Pacific Coast intercollegiate boxing championships tonight with 11 points each in team scoring and four men apiece surviving initial elimination bouts.

Running true to advance predictions, the leather pushers from University of Idaho and Washington State College stole the jump on third place University of California, whose team rung up nine points. U. C. L. A. five, as did San Jose State. University of San Francisco had four, Santa Clara four and California Aggies 2.

A capacity crowd of 5,000 persons sat through 23 fights and was repaid by witnessing the most thrilling battle of the evening in the windup session between Bob Bates, Washington State's former P.C.I. and Golden Gloves champion, and Rolly Schumway, Idaho, 145-pounder.

The fight was the second of the night for Bates. Bates was booted roundly by the fans last night when he was awarded a close decision over Karl Drexel of San Jose State in the evening's fourth bout. Fans cheered him lustily, however, when he recovered from a first round knockdown in his later encounter with Schumway and lost the decision to the comparatively fresh Idaho fighter by a narrow margin.

Behemoth Gene (Tiny) Cervelli, University of San Francisco's battling grid star-heavyweight, turned in the most impressive exhibition of the program by knocking out George Huber of Washington State in 34 seconds of fighting. The first-round knockout tabbed Cervelli, the defending champion, as an almost certain repeater.

John Meigsades, Santa Clara, upset the dope by technically knocking out Don Walker, San Jose heavyweight who fought Cervelli in the finals last year. The fight ended in the second.

Bruce Broadwell, U.C.L.A. griddler, lost the other heavyweight match to Ross Sundberg, chubby Idaho fighter, when he slipped and hurt a knee, weakened by a football injury. He was unable to rise and had to be carried from the ring. Sundberg was awarded a second round technical knockout.

Winners of tonight's final bouts will receive gold medals for their efforts and qualify for the national intercollegiate to be contested here in April. All fights are three rounds.

3 TERRAPLANE SALES MADE BY COUNTY DEALER

Three recent sales of Terraplane cars in El Dorado County are reported by Ed Summerfield, Jr., county dealer for Hudson and Terraplane automobiles.

Henry Steitz of Placerville, has taken delivery of a Terraplane sedan. Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Hollenbeck have taken delivery of a Terraplane Super-Six sedan and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClung of El Dorado, have purchased a Terraplane touring brougham.

Mr. Summerfield reports increasing interest on the part of county motorists in the new Hudson-built Terraplane as its performance features are coming more and more to public attention.

Mrs. Clark Gleason and daughter are here from Santa Barbara visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morey and other friends.

Mrs. Edith Rasmussen of Placerville, who has been hostess at the Pacific Gas & Electric Company's "open house" on Friday and Saturday, marking the completion of their Placerville office modernization program.

NEW AIDE FOR FARMER LOANS

A. C. Winkelman To Be Secretary For Association

A. C. Winkelman has been named secretary of the Placerville National Farm Loan Association, succeeding L. J. Anderson, resigned.

Announcement to this effect was made Saturday by officers of the association, who pointed out that there is no change in the offices of the secretary, since Mr. Winkelman is employed in the L. J. Anderson real estate office.

Anderson had been secretary of the association since 1924.

The Placerville National Farm Loan Association is an affiliation of 60 members, financing farming operations upon an appraised loan basis, through the Federal Land Bank at Berkeley.

CAMINO SCOUTS GAIN BACKING OF LUMBERMEN

The future of the Boy Scout troop at Camino seems a promising one following announcement by Scoutmaster Don Hook that the Camino chapter of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen has taken over sponsorship of the troop.

The 4Ls have appointed a troop committee including Hugh Schafer, Herbert Phelps, Roy McPhee and Bert Hottinger to work with Scoutmaster Hook in planning the troop's activities.

Members of the Camino troop and all friends of Scouting in the county are glad to know that their work is being sponsored by the 4Ls for the sponsorship holds a promise of greater activity for Scouts and greater reward to them in their service to their community.

ROSSITER HAS PIERCE ARROW CAFE, FOUNTAIN

The Pierce Arrow Cafe and Fountain has been taken over under lease from A. L. Richardson, Jr., by Paul Rossiter, who henceforth will be in charge.

Mr. Rossiter has been connected with the business for some time past as an employee and is thoroughly familiar with the operation of the business and well-known to the patrons, to whom Mr. Richardson commends the lessee. In addition to cafe and fountain service, Mr. Rossiter will provide for his patrons the well-known Buffalo and Rainier beers.

Time for sentencing Al Burley, who pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to provide, was continued on Saturday by Judge George H. Thompson until Monday morning, at the personal request of the defendant.

Scores Visit New Office Of Power Concern

Mrs. Edith Rasmussen Hostess During "Open House"

Scores of El Dorado County residents have taken advantage of the opportunity extended by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company to attend their "open house," marking the opening of their new office quarters, on Friday and Saturday.

District Manager J. R. Johnson and staff report more than 80 persons called during Friday to inspect the new quarters and sign the register.

Hostess for the occasion is Mrs. Edith Rasmussen, who serves tasty refreshments for visitors. She is being assisted in receiving the guests and in explaining the new equipment which is on display, by Roy Hopkins of Sacramento, assigned here for the opening, as well as by E. M. MacReading and Henry Lefevre.

Features of the new office are the latest type of lighting fixtures and a new private branch telephone exchange, the latter being operated by Miss Ruth Lyon, who also greets patrons at the office counter.

The telephone exchange is the second private branch exchange in Placerville and is of a type which operates through switches as distinguished from the type which requires plugs and cord in operation.

JOE GASPARINI DIED SATURDAY AT RESIDENCE

Funeral services for Joe Gasparini, 82, who died early Saturday at his home in Blair's district, will be held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Patrick's church. Rev. Father T. J. Hayes officiating. Burial will be at Union cemetery.

Mr. Gasparini's death followed a heart ailment, complicated by infirmities of his advanced age.

A native of Switzerland, he came to America as a young man and settled 65 years ago in the Pilot Hill district of this county. Later he took up a homestead in the Pino Grande district and for a time was employed by the lumber company there.

For about 35 years he had resided at his late home, engaging in farming during his active life. He was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends who knew him as a thrifty, industrious citizen and a devoted husband and father.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Amelia Gasparini, and by three daughters, Mrs. Jessie Childers of Bryte; Mrs. Mary Brunelli of Diamond Springs, and Mrs. Victoria Facchini. In addition, he is survived by five grandchildren, and also by one sister, who lives in Switzerland.

The body is in the care of the Dillingham mortuary.

Regional Meeting Report Is Given

The meeting of the North Side Farm Center, held Friday night at Pilot Hill, heard a report on the recent regional Farm Bureau meeting at Marysville by George Threlkel, who was a member of the El Dorado County delegation to the meeting.

In observance of "Conservation Week," Forest Supervisor Edwin F. Smith spoke, discussing the subject from the point-of-view of land use.

Farm Advisor Ivan Lilley gave a landscaping demonstration, five reels of motion pictures were shown and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

42 Join For Pirate Party On March 13

Merchants' Committee Invites All Stores To Take Part

Forty-two Placerville business houses have indicated their intention to participate in the "Pirates' Party" Treasure Hunt, planned for Saturday, March 13, under auspices of the merchants' committee of the El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce.

This is according to an announcement today by H. V. Jespersen, chairman of the committee, which includes in its membership L. A. Raffetto, E. E. Van Harlingen and Perry S. Tracy.

The committee has made an effort to contact all business, it is announced, and any business men who has not been invited to share in the party should consult with the committee if he has been missed by them in their survey.

The "Pirate Party" is planned as the first of a series of events to be staged once each month in which merchants will offer gift awards to their patrons. The March 13 event will feature pre-Easter materials in all lines.

LEGISLATORS CLEAR DECKS IN 1st WEEK

By GEORGE E. HELMER

United Press Staff Correspondent
SACRAMENTO (UP)—Specific accomplishments of the California legislature during the first week of the spring session were so few they could be recorded in a paragraph or two, and there was little indication that the second week would bring final action on subjects of widespread interest.

The lawmakers, now in week-end recess, completed most of their preliminary organization work, set dates for hearings on controversial bills, got rid of the United States Supreme Court question, escaped the necessity of holding a hearing on a resolution demanding the removal of Gavin W. Craig from the second appellate district bench and paved the way for early action on uncontested bills which began trickling out of committees.

When they begin their second week Monday, they will face an assembly discussion on a resolution to grant Tom Mooney a legislative pardon, possible action on a bill which supposedly would tighten the penalty for sit-down strikers, and a more definitely organized program of committee consideration of bills. Consideration of the Mooney resolution was set as a special order of business for 2:30 p. m. next Wednesday.

C. E. Young People Attend Convention

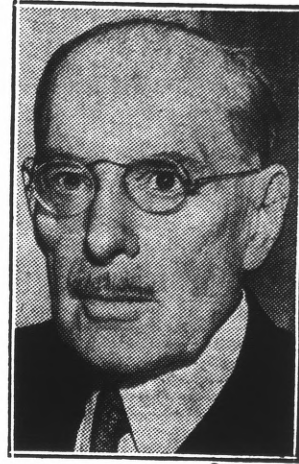

Members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Federated church are taking part in the state Christian Endeavor convention this week-end, at Sacramento.

Miss Donna Le Bourveau is a convention soloist with Maxine Miller as her accompanist, and Virgil Gearhart will play a violin solo with Albert Lewis as accompanist. In addition, other members of the society are attending the convention.

A report on the convention will be given at the March 14 meeting of the local society.

The society is planning at Easter meeting, for which Larry Hearn will be leader, according to Marjorie Brimhall, publicity chairman.

At the meeting of El Dorado Chapter, Order of De Molay, on Thursday evening, Robert Bennett and Jack Rhodes, Jr., were initiated into membership.

CHAIRMAN — Representative Edward T. Taylor of Colorado, who has succeeded the late Representative James P. Buchanan of Texas as chairman of the important House Appropriations Committee. He formerly was ranking member of the Committee.

SCHOOL BONDS GIVEN SUPPORT

Service Clubs, P.T.A., Legion Post, Council Endorse Plan

The proposed $40,000 addition to Placerville grammar school, including three class rooms, a manual training room and an auditorium, upon which voters will ballot March 26, has the endorsement of Placerville civic and official bodies it was revealed Saturday by J. R. Johnson, clerk of the school board.

Placerville City Council, the Lions Club, the Parent-Teacher Association of the school, the American Legion post and the 20-30 Club have all endorsed the project, Mr. Johnson reports.

The new addition will relieve overcrowding in classes of the school at present and will provide, also, a centrally located auditorium which will be open to public use when such use does not conflict with school programs.

HULL REPORTS ON "INCIDENT" IN ADDIS ABABA

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull revealed today that several hundred Ethiopian natives invaded the compound of the American legation at Addis Ababa during the excitement which followed the bombing of Marshall Rudolf Grazian.

Hull said that the natives entered the legation compound during the intense excitement which spread over the Ethiopian capital after an attempt on the Italian marshal's life three weeks ago.

Hull said that no violence occurred at the American legation. Reports from London had stated that many Ethiopians were slain after seeking refuge in the American legation.

Hull asserted that the American decision announced yesterday to discontinue its legation at Addis Ababa had no connection with the incident.

Charles Brandon was in town from the Latrobe district, Saturday.

Don Robinson Buys Murray Residence

Announcement was made Saturday morning by Mr. and Mrs. William Murray of the sale of their home on Acacia Street to Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson of Robinson's Pharmacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray expect to vacate the premises within about two weeks. Mr. Murray is leaving the Electric Shoe Shop and states that for the present his plans are not definitely formed.

Mrs. M. E. Raber was a Thursday visitor at Sacramento.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Neistrum were in town on Saturday from Pleasant Valley.

Plumas Forest Worker Slain By Companion

Officers Jail Man In Probe Of "Mistake" Shooting

QUINCY (UP)—Plumas County authorities held a man identified as James Newcomb in the county jail today pending further investigation of his account of awakening in the night and shooting to death a man he believed to be a marauder, but who turned out to be his best friend.

The shooting occurred at Newcomb's small cabin near Keddie, a railroad center, seven miles north of Quincy, last night.

Officers, summoned by telephone to a grocery store near Newcomb's home, found the white-faced, shaken Newcomb and Roy Williams of Westwood, awaiting them.

At Newcomb's cabin, they found the body of James Wells, 60-year-old forest service employee. A revolver slug had passed through his chest, apparently puncturing his heart and killing him instantly.

11th VICTIM IN BAY AIR CRASH FOUND IN WATER

REDWOOD CITY (UP)—The body of the last of the 11 victims of the Los Angeles-San Francisco United Airlines crash was recovered from San Francisco Bay last night by two men on a cement barge near here. It was identified as that of J. F. Gilmore, vice president of the Enterprise Oil Burner Company of Oakland.

United Airlines and Department of Commerce officials, meanwhile, continued independent investigations into the cause of the crash which took place during perfect flying weather a few moments before the plane was to have landed.

They refused to confirm reports from New York that the pilot's microphone dropped and jammed the controls thereby causing the crash.

TREE-PLANTING ON SUNDAY AT BENNETT PARK

First public observance of "Conservation Week," March 7 to 14, in El Dorado County, will be on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock when El Dorado Post No. 119, American Legion, will plant a grove of silver maples in the picnic grounds at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park.

A program including numbers by the county band, led by Charles W. Ball, and talks by the chairman of the post's conservation committee, Supervisor P. J. Hall and Captain Don Hoffman of Snowline CCC camp, has been arranged. The public is invited to attend.

While members of the various farm centers are carrying out the observance in the March series of meetings, the members of Marguerite Parlor met this (Saturday) afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harriett Amstalden, for their customary observance of Arbor Day and for a pot-luck luncheon.

Health Tests Topic For P.T.A. Meeting

Blair's Parent-Teacher Association met Friday afternoon at the schoolhouse.

Mrs. Helen Byrnes, county school nurse, was guest speaker. She gave very instructive talks on the two tests which are to be given soon in the county: the test for tuberculosis and the test for hearing.

To Take Off The Chill

Judiciary Revision

The President's proposal for changes in the Supreme Court, according to The Boston Post, "boils down to the simple question: Shall the President be given the power to control the court by the appointment of six men of his own choosing?"

Mr. Roosevelt's plea, in the eyes of The Cleveland Plain-Dealer, "is essentially a plea for speed in getting judicial approval of New Deal purposes." The Plain-Dealer acknowledges that for New Deal purposes speed is certainly important, but cautions that it might be secured at too great a cost.

"It is more important that in getting results the democratic processes be preserved, and no step taken which might lead to a future dictatorship, the Cleveland newspaper concludes.

"The reactionary majority of the Supreme Court has been either unable or unwilling to apply positive grants of constitutional self-government to the realities of our times," in the view of Scripps-Howard newspapers.

"The President proposes to break the obstruction by taking over the third branch of our government. That, to us, is the rub. We feel," the Scripps-Howard papers concluded, "that the precedent he would set today as a short cut, would rise to plague this nation in years to come."

While the Boston Post declares that the President "likes none of the decisions which upset New Deal legislation" and his dislikes extends even to the unanimous decisions, the Boston Herald views his March 4 radio talk as being "in many ways the most passionate outburst of his career, a hymn of hate exceeding in bitterness even the speeches in which he assailed the 'Bourbons' and 'economic royalists.'"

The President declared in effect, the newspaper declares, "To hell with the United States Supreme Court! I know what I want and I am going to get it."

Types 122 Words A Minute Riding In Automobile

Chester Soucek, world's fastest amateur typist, blazed through another amazing speed record, when he batted out text at the rate of 122 words a minute while traveling 40 miles an hour in an automobile.

The action photo above shows Soucek racing the typewriter keys while riding in a 1937

Dodge sedan. J. A. Johnson, typewriter company official, acts as timekeeper in the remarkable performance.

In the opinion of automobile men, the vibrationless gait of the car undoubtedly contributed its share to the success of the dramatic demonstration of Soucek's uncanny digital dexterity.

Anita Page, Husband To Re-Wed March 21

SAN DIEGO (UP)—Anita Page, blonde screen star, in San Diego to join her husband, Lt. Hejrschel A. House, navy flying officer, said today they will be re-married in a formal ceremony at her Manhattan Beach home, March 21. They were married secretly at Yuma, Arizona, January 7. The actress, who got her start in pictures at 16, said she was through with the stage and screen. She will remain in San Diego until June when Lt. House comes up for reassignment, she said.

"Publicity" Won In Phone Charge Suit

NEW YORK (UP)—A six-man jury, which heard testimony for three days and debated its verdict for more than 12 hours, ruled today that the New York Telephone Company must pay James J. McCoy $3.85 overcharges on 31 long distance calls.

McCoy filed suit when his own timing device showed that he had been overcharged 25 per cent on calls totaling $15.75. The company insisted that he was merely seeking publicity for his instrument.

COUNTY MANAGER IS CALLED TO SHELL SALES SHOW ON MONDAY

Louis Armes, local manager for Shell Oil Company, has been called to Sacramento to attend the "Shell sales show of 1937" and annual banquet on March 8th.

This years show is comprised of a cast of 20 people divided into eight acts which dramatize the advertising and promotion plans for the coming year. Mystifying illusions, trick elephants and performing molecules are included in the sensational effects created for the big revue. There will also be a five-reel talking picture especially made in Hollywood for this production.

A group of Shell executives from the company's head office in San Francisco will be in attendance. W. P. Durkee, vice president in charge of marketing and L. G. McLaren, general sales manager, head the company of 20 people. Others include L. E. David, operations manager; R. F. Schroeder, assistant general sales manager; R. T. Collier, assistant general sales manager; J. E. Pendergast, manager lubricating oil department; John L. Cobbs, Jr., advertising manager; R. G. Landis, assistant advertising manager; J. S. Kenny, retail field representative and Norman Strouse of the Sacramento to attend the "Shell sales show of 1937" and annual banquet on March 8th.

"Shell plans an extensive advertising and sales promotion program this year which bids fair to surpass any of their previous efforts," Mr. Armes said. "It is expected that complete plans and schedules will be unfolded to those in attendance when the conference convenes March 8th."

Newspapers will play an important part in this plan and will be supplemented by national magazines, a transcontinental radio program, outdoor posting in non-scenic locations, and enlargement of Shell touring service which supplies free information, road maps and guides to all motorists.

The "Shell sales show of 1937" will tour the entire Pacific Coast marketing area of the company, requiring a month to cover all division points.

Ford V-8 Stake Truck Popular

ONE of the most widely used Ford V-8 truck units is the 157-inch Stake Truck. The 1937 unit, powered with the improved 85 horsepower V-8 engine, is shown above. It has a load space 142 inches long and 82 inches wide. Stake sections, held rigidly together with interlocking plates, may be quickly and easily removed. The hinged center sections can be swung out for side loading. Name panels are carried on the forward sections. The all-steel cab with steel top is equipped with safety glass and fitted with clear-vision ventilation, cowl ventilator and windshield that opens. Interleaf spring lubrication, full floating rear axle and deep rugged frame are important chassis features. Low first cost, economy on gasoline and oil, and minimum cost for repairs and depreciation make this a popular unit for all types of hauling.

SANTA ANITA TO END SEASON IN $10,000 EVENT

ARCADIA (P)—Sea Biscuit and nine other thoroughbreds will gallop one mile and a furlong on Santa Anita track today in the season's closing feature, the $10,000 added San Juan Capistrano handicap.

Following today's races, some 800 horses will be shipped north on special trains for the Tanforan and Bay Meadows meetings.

Trainer Tom Smith reluctantly accepted top weight of 120 pounds for Sea Biscuit, nosed out by Rosemont in last Saturday's $100,000 Santa Anita handicap.

"Sea Biscuit's a small horse, he protested. It would have been all right to grade the others lower in proportion but I don't believe my horse should have been weighted over 119 pounds."

British Actor Lost From Liner At Sea

LONDON (P)—Frank Vosper, 37, British actor and author, disappeared from the liner Paris a few hours before it arrived at Plymouth today from New York. Muriel Oxford, 22, chosen "Miss Great Britain" in a beauty contest last year, told Plymouth police that he had attended a party in her stateroom just before he disappeared and that they had talked together "quite normally."

Kitchen Party Is Fun; Guest Enjoy This Menu

By JUDITH WILSON

KITCHEN parties are fun for both host and guests. They are informal and the invitation of "come into the kitchen" will be readily accepted by your friends. Of course the food is a big part of the party so here is a menu figured out by Elizabeth Woody of McCall's that can't fail to delight:

Tomato Juice
Griddle Cake Sandwiches
Gold Coast Salad Bowl
Coffee
Everything except the sandwiches and coffee can be ready ahead of time. The kitchen table set buffet style with colorful dishes and bright linens. The salad fruits and greens ready in the refrigerator and waiting to be put together. Then turn the kitchen over to the visiting team—sit back and let your guests take charge!

Griddle Cake Sandwiches
A tender, thin round of browned perfection; three strips of fragrant bacon cooked just until they're crisp and fluted; and then, smoking hot from the griddle, another cake to cover; there is a real sandwich.

For variety, a filling of savory frizzled ham, or of salty chipped beef in a suave cheese sauce. And always, the griddle cakes themselves served without a second's waiting. The ready-prepared pancake mixes offer the easiest, quickest way to make them.

Gold Coast Salad Bowl
Three grapefruit, 3 oranges, Romaine, Endive, 1/2 avocado, Mayonnaise, French dressing.
Peel grapefruit and oranges, removing the sections whole. Marinate in French dressing. Chill. Line salad bowl with alternate spears of romaine and endive. Pare and halve avocado; remove stone. Cut one half in serving-sized pieces. Fit pieces together and place in center of salad bowl; fill cavity with mayonnaise. Arrange orange and grapefruit sections around center. Serve with extra dressing, if desired. Serves 6.

DOG RACING TO BE REVIEWED IN STATE ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO (P)—The modern counterpart of hounds and hare—dog racing to you—will be viewed from all angles by the assembly public morals committee on two days, one week apart, it was announced today.

Assemblyman Charles Hunt's bill specifically prohibiting the present system of option betting on dog races was awarded a special hearing on March 10. Committee action followed protests of Assemblyman Thomas Maloney, San Francisco, and Harrison W. Call, San Mateo, against giving the measure immediate consideration. Hunt's only objective in asking quick action was to get all of his bills under way, either to the floor of the assembly, or into the discard, he said.

Several other measures on the subject of dog racing and betting, some affecting tracks in San Mateo County, were ordered set for public hearing on March 17.

Mrs. Edwin Smith was a Thursday visitor at Sacramento.

British Publisher Buys U. S. Mount

NEW YORK (P)—A 7-year-old cream-colored gelding with snow-white mane and tail, sold in state today for England aboard the U. S. liner American Snipper. The rare specimen of the Palomino breed, will be delivered to Lady, Drego Montagu in London for use as a saddle horse, the gift of her father, Lord Beaverbrook.

The English publisher, now in Los Angeles, saw the horse while attending the races at Santa Anita and purchased it for his daughter.

Agua Caliente Track Opens in Three Weeks

LOS ANGELES (P)—Gene Normile, former manager of the Tijuana Jockey Club, announced today the Agua Caliente race track will reopen in three weeks. Normile said an American syndicate headed by himself purchased the racing plant, once valued at $10,000,000 and had obtained a racing permit from the Mexican government.

Luisetti Sets New Hoop Scoring Mark

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Stanford University's basketball team carried off every major honor but one in the southern division of the Pacific conference in the campaign ended last night.

The Cardinals won the division championship with a record of ten wins and two defeats. They took scoring honors with a total of 595 points. They presented the highest scorer in Angelo (Hank) Luisetti, whose 210 points set a new division record.

34 Killed, 100 Hurt In Madrid Air Raid

MADRID (UP)—Nationalist air raiders, in four smashing air raids during the night, killed 34 persons and wounded 100 in Madrid and the area along the front, loyalist authorities said today.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (P)—Worried, perhaps, by the refusal of Dizzy Dean to come to terms, Manager Frankie Frisch of the St. Louis Cardinals tried me out as a pitcher.

At the conclusion of my first performance on the mound Frisch would commit himself no further than to say:

"We still need Dizzy."

I didn't know whether to be encouraged or dismayed by this remark. Did Frisch mean that he still needed Dizzy to be sure of starting the season with TWO 20 game pitchers? Or did he mean that I was in no way an able replacement for the great right arm, with human being attached, who is holding out so lustily in Bradenton?

Today will tell, however, for I have been promised another chance on the firing line. I know I will do even better than on yesterday if only because of the knowledge that failure will mean the minors for me, I having already failed at shortstop, second, behind the plate, and in the outfield.

As owner Sam Breadon told me: "You'd better find some place you're hot soon, because after all there are only nine places on a team, and you're fast running out of positions. Unfortunately, this isn't a tug-of-war team, with 50 on a side."

It is as a pitcher that I believe I'll land a job with the Cards.

Both Lonnie Warneke and Paul Dean watched me work yesterday, and both agreed that they had never seen a slower slow ball than mine.

"That's the slowest thing I ever laid my eyes on," Warneke said as I laid one down the groove.

"Sho' is," drawled Paul. "It's a wonder the darn thing don't bounce." "Lemme see your fast one," the veteran Jess Haines said.

So I reared back and "fogged" one through.

"Quit throwing that slow ball so much," Warneke said, as the ball landed into Mickey Owens' mitt with a deafening thud.

I thought he was kidding, but when Haines said "yeah, let's have a fast one," I knew they didn't know that I had practically thrown my odd-numbered vertebrae out of whack in an effort to make the ball burn in.

So I reared further back. And as I reared back I summoned every inch of me—lungs, ears, eyes, knee-caps, pancreas, pores, and thyroid—for I was hell bent and determined to throw one that Lefty Grove at his best would have been proud of.

When it left my hand, carrying practically my soul on its seams, I knew I really had cut a hot one loose. I watched it scream toward the plate, and when it lashed past the plate I saw a spurt of smoke.

I turned for congratulations.

"I'll be damned," Warneke said. "You got that slow ball of yours on your mind. Throw a hot one, man, a real hot one."

"Yes sir," echoed Paul Dean, "he's so proud of the slow one he won't change."

But that was yesterday. Today I'll have a fast one, and it'll have a hook on it you could hang a pair of pants on. Because last night I happened to think that maybe I hadn't been training right.

I remembered that Ol' Pete Alexander, one of the greatest pitchers who ever lived, and a St. Louis Cardinal himself at one time, used to train after dark. Soon as I remembered that I knew what I had better do. So, until the wee small hours, I followed Ol' Alexander's rigorous routine. It liked to have finished me, because I'm a boy scout (tenderfoot, muskrat patrol, one merit badge for cooking) at heart.

But, along about four in the morning, I reached a point where I would have bet even money that I could have stood out on the pitching hill and mowed down 300 hitters as fast as they could get to the plate. In fact, I did mow down one citizen, but unfortunately he turned out to be the owner of the "gymnasium." And, more unfortunately still, he was a 300 hitter. If I hadn't hit a table I'd still be rolling.

CLOCKS—WATCHES

NORWALK, O., (UP)—Natives waited anxiously today for the town clock to strike, a sure sign of spring. All summer long it sounds the hours, but when winter comes it is silent. Officials say the cold hardens the lubricating oil in the mechanism.

50 MOTORISTS NABBED

CLEVELAND, (UP)—Police captain Chester Burnett started a traffic drive in his precinct. His first move was to detail two patrolmen to stand in front of the station. In one day they nabbed 50 erring motorists.

Henry J. McGoff is held by city officers for investigation. McGoff, arrested Thursday night, has been unable thus far to satisfy the city officers with his "story" and they are making a thorough inquiry concerning him.

ATTORNEY IS JUDGE

CLEVELAND, (UP)—An attorney who was permitted to fix his client's penalty for a traffic violation suggested a suspended work-house sentence of 30 days and a fine of $25. "That's stiffer than I would have made it," Judge David C. Copland chuckled.

Pirates Are Coming!

MAMMOTH PIRATE PARTY All Day Saturday, March 13th

You are to be the Modern Day Pirate and search out the TREASURES (Prizes) that will be hidden (in plain sight) in all the stores co-operating and whose names appear at the bottom of this advertisement.

HERE'S HOW YOU FIND the WAY TO the TREASURES

ON WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10th, on the top margin of the front page of this newspaper a number will be printed. Every paper will carry a different number, . . . WATCH FOR IT BECAUSE IT MAY BE YOUR LUCKY NUMBER. Take this paper carrying a number into the stores of the sponsoring merchants and find the corresponding number. THAT TREASURE, SO NUMBERED, IS YOURS TO HAVE AND HOLD.

EVERY NUMBER IS NOT GOOD FOR A TREASURE, BECAUSE TREASURES WILL ONLY BE FOUND IN AS MANY MERCHANT'S STORES AS ARE PARTICIPATING. — Come, visit the stores next Saturday, March 13th. Maybe you'll find a treasure, but if not, you'll have a lot of fun anyway. Join in the search. — Watch for your number

THERE IS NO CATCH TO IT! NOTHING TO BUY! IT IS JUST UNIQUE AND GENEROUS WAY THESE PLACERVILLE MERCHANTS HAVE OF SAYING "COME INTO OUR STORES AND SEE THE WONDERFUL DISPLAYS OF SPRING MERCHANDISE." THE GENERAL PUBLIC IS MOST CORDIALLY INVITED TO PARTICIPATE.

OFF WITH 'EM!—Off come the oilskins as Doris Snary of Chicago prepares to plunge into the Roney Plaza pool at Miami, Fla. These half-length oilskin jackets are fashionable now on southern beaches.

There'll be a general exodus toward Sacramento about sun-down tonight as between 25 and 30-odd sports fans move toward the Memorial Auditorium and a climax of that toward which they have been looking for a month past.

The finals in the Pacific Coast inter-collegiate boxing tournament.

'Stoo bad if you didn't get a ticket because those lads go in there and fight for nothing but dear old Alma Mammy, and a capacity house every night leads us to declare that it's as good as an end run every minute.

On the way down, we'll be looking along the roadside for Traffic Officer Dick Cornelison's leather jacket. The officer lost the jacket somewhere between White Rock and Folsom on Friday, while enroute to Sacramento, and he'd like to get it back.

Have you seen it?

Evidence of the over-crowding at the Placerville grammar school, which tends to support the issuance of $40,000 bonds for additions to the building, comes from J. R. Johnson, clerk of the school board.

Mr. Johnson says the school's manual training quarters are so cramped that when anyone wants to cut a piece of wall-board, the entire class must step outside the room.

"GONE WITH WIND"

GLOSTER, O., (UP)—The controversy over postage stamps bearing the likeness of General W. T. Sherman which has stirred Georgia, reached W. D. Christman, a Civil War veteran of Oakdale today. Christman, who served in one of the first Union companies to march into Atlanta, said the Georgians are mistaken when they say that Sherman's troops burned Atlanta. The Confederates burned the city as they evacuated, he said.

James Woodward was up from near Folsom on Friday. He reports Mrs. Woodward's health is much improved.

GAME WARDEN ACQUITTED IN ARREST DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A federal district court jury last night acquitted W. C. Blewett, state game warden, who was tried on charges of murder in the slaying of George Thomas, a duck hunter, at Earl Lake last November.

Blewett admitted shooting Thomas but said it was in self defense after the hunter tried to shoot him when he was attempting to arrest him for a game law violation.

Blewett and members of his family wept when the verdict was announced.

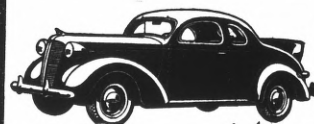

Mrs. Simpson Shows New Dresses In Film

CANNES, France (UP)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson and the Duke of Windsor, separated now for three months, have devised a plan by which they see each other in movies, it was learned today.

Each takes a small sized movie film daily, showing a part of the day's activities, and these are exchanged by mail.

Mrs. Simpson sent the Duke one film showing a panorama of the Riviera coast, photographed from a boat. Another showed her in the villa garden, walking back and fourth under the fruit and olive trees wearing her new Paris gowns so he could see them.

J. W. Caswell was a Sacramento visitor Thursday and Friday on state business.
